Open to UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE ECONOMICS STUDENTS and MALAS STUDENTS with concentrations in Economics for the 2023-2024 ACADEMIC YEAR

Application Deadline: February 15, 2023
(Incomplete or late applications will not be considered)

The Memorial Minute Adopted by the University of New Mexico Faculty, May 14, 1963, remembers Dr. Duncan in the following way: Julian S. Duncan, a former faculty member and chair of the Department of Economics at UNM, is remembered as “much more than an economist and teacher. He was a warm and sympathetic person who took upon his own shoulders many problems of his colleagues and students; several students would not have graduated had it not been for his encouragement and assistance. Beneath an unpretentious demeanor lay a firm resolve to do what was right and to lend what assistance he could.” The Department is now accepting applications for one scholarship of $500, which will be awarded to a promising student with interests in the economic development of Latin America.

Complete applications are due by close of business day Wednesday, February 15, 2023. If you have questions please contact your advisor.

To apply, fill out the application form accessible on the Department of Economics Website (<https://econ.unm.edu/resources/funding-opportunities/index.html>). A letter of recommendation from your major advisor or a faculty member must also be submitted by Wednesday March 1, 2023.

The recipient is required to provide a written update at the end of the fellowship detailing the results from the award. They are also required to write a thank you letter to the donor’s family at the time of receiving the award. The letter will provided to the Department of Economics and then forwarded to the donor's family.
